LAS & Honors – After the Civilizations Sequence

For further information and advice, contact the Honors College directly or talk with one of the following faculty members in your College:

- Richard Powell (Political Science), Honors College Secretary for LAS; rpowell@maine.edu
- Barbara Cole (Chemistry); cole@maine.edu
- Rob Glover (Political Science), CLAS-Honors Preceptor of Political Science; robert.glover@maine.edu
- Alex Grab (History); alexander_grab@umit.maine.edu
- Sarah Harlan-Haughey (English), CLAS-Honors Preceptor of English; sarah.harlanhaughey@maine.edu
- Jordan LaBouff (Psychology), CLAS-Honors Preceptor of Psychology; jordan.labouff@maine.edu

Following successful completion of the four-semester Civilization Sequence, students must complete these curricular requirements and maintain a 3.30 or greater GPA to graduate with an Honors degree designation

HON 170 (1ct) – “Currents & Contexts” can be taken at any point in undergraduate career (Beginning with the class of 2017)

HON 180 (1cr) – “A Cultural Odyssey” can be taken at any point in undergraduate career.

HON 3 - - (3cr) – “Honors tutorial”

Can be replaced by HON 349 (0cr, P/F) – “Tutorial Alternative” (study abroad, congressional internships, etc. will be accepted). 3cr tutorial waiver – requires a written reflective piece, 6 photos, and a 10-15 minute talk on the experience.

HON 498 & HON 499 (3cr each) – “the Honors Thesis”

The following majors will allow the thesis to count for the department’s capstone requirement:

- Anthropology
- Art History
- Chemistry
- Communication (Note – students who elect to use their thesis to cover their capstone requirement are also required to take on additional course (3cr) other than CMJ 102, 103, or 106 from the Major Course Requirements list)
- Computer Science
- English
- French, Spanish (Note – the Honors thesis and/or presentation should be done in the language or the majority of the work should be done in the language)
- Interdisciplinary Studies
- International Affairs (except History – see concentration department for further information)
- Journalism (Note - Students who use their thesis to cover the capstone requirement are required to take one additional course (3 or 4 cr) other than CMJ 100 from the Journalism Professional Courses or Electives from the Major Course Requirements list)

See Reverse…
• Mass Communication (Note - Students who elect this option are required to take one additional course (3 credits) other than CMJ 100 from the Major Course Requirements list.)
• Mathematics & Statistics
• Music (BA only, thesis work must be comparable to work done in MUS 498)
• Modern Languages, Romance Languages (Note – the Honors thesis and/or presentation should be done in the language or the majority of the work should be done in the language)
• New Media (Note – students are exempt from enrolling in NMD498 and NMD499 but do have to attend the seminar meetings of those courses)
• Physics & Astronomy (Note – students are exempt from taking PHY481 and PHY482 but do have to complete the project assignments in those courses)
• Political Science
• Psychology
• Sociology
• Theatre
• Women’s, Gender and Sexuality Studies

The following majors should contact the Honors College or one of the faculty members listed above to discuss how to coordinate their capstone and Honors thesis:

• Art Education
• Studio Art
• History
• International Affairs (History Concentration)
• Music Education
• Music Performance
• Philosophy